1. [REDACTED] Miss Bledsoe, in the office of Senator Stuart Symington (D., Mo.), called to find out if we had any employment opportunities for an individual with a Masters degree, but no foreign language, and with work experience in the news and radio field, who is blind. After checking with [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] in the Office of Personnel, I told Miss Bledsoe that we had no openings and she thanked us for checking into the matter.

2. [REDACTED] Mr. Wilson, in the office of Representative Paul McCloskey (R., Calif.) called to ask for the name and number of the individual who could arrange a briefing for the Representative on Cambodia. Wilson said he was unable to supply any other specifics and did not know when the Congressman would squeeze in any briefing since he is leaving the city tomorrow. I told Wilson that Mr. Maury should be contacted on this.

3. [REDACTED] After hearing from [REDACTED] that the FBI had been informed of the House Internal Security Committee's interest in [REDACTED] and had no objections to the proceedings, I called Mr. Robert Horner, Chief Investigator of the Committee, and told him that [REDACTED] would be available to the Committee for the staff interview, under the conditions already agreed to, at their convenience. Mr. Horner suggested we try sometime next week and left the date up to us. Mr. Horner said they would be interested in two things: [REDACTED]
